me: very good
Caleb: Theoretically, I'd have the inside advantages on any potential openings at FNC.
Caleb: All I'd have to do is live in Dallas for an indefinite period of time.
Caleb: Pretty sweet deal, if you ask me.
me: well, there you go!
me: it's hot down here though!
me: you were living up in Maine for so long, bet you forgot how hot it is down here!
me: probably used to that Yankee weather!
Caleb: Believe me, brother, I know _all_ about it.
Caleb: Remind me again how much you pay for your place.
Caleb: Or, rather, how much your mother pays for your place.
